The Fear of Failure Funnel

3 Ways to Fail

1) Quit

2) Don't Improve

3) Never Try

Failure doesn't happen to you, it happens for you

The Care Package

Show warmth, an interest in their well-being, a desire to connect, and authenticity.

Help someone with a circumstance - dig in and help solve a problem.

Keep your commitments.

Appreciate, respect, encourage, empower.

Take the time, especially when you don't have it. They'll notice.

Listen – really listen – it's what caring human beings do. Be present.

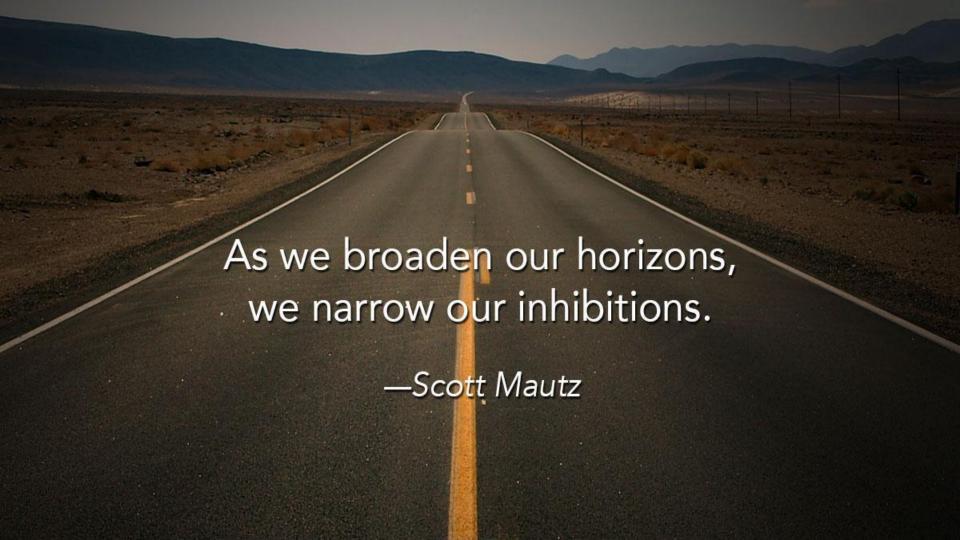

Treat others time as if it was as important as yours.

Be as passionate about their growth, development, and career as you are about your own.

Spell Out the Difference Between Good & Great

| Key Performance Vector | Goodness | Greatness |
|---------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Leadership | You work hard at leadership. You get things done. Your cross-functional partners and direct reports like working with you. | You can't help but lead because others want to follow. |
| Thinking & Acting Decisively | You make firm decisions, with sufficient data in hand. | You make firm decisions, with sufficient data and stakeholders in hand (people need to weigh in before they can buy in). |
| Getting Things Done | You make things happen. | You make the right things happen, before you're asked. And you over-invest in leaving footprints (legacy work). |
| Risk Taking | You let fear smartly temper your risk taking – well thought through, calculated risks only, please. | You fear not taking calculated risks. |
| Priority Setting | Trash compactor management - You brutally prioritize and compact your work load, focusing on delivering the most important things. | Accordion management - You continually re-prioritize, contracting and expanding your workload by adding more high value work, taking off low value work, and flowing to surges. |
| Capacity | You personally take on and crank through any priority you're given. | You make it personal for others to take on as well. |
| Strategic Thinking | You consistently lead management's thinking. | You consistently lead, and largely finish, management's thinking (with thorough, strategic thought). |
| Intelligence | You have great intelligence (IQ). | You have great emotional intelligence (EQ) as well. |
| Attention to Detail | You have an eye for detail. | You helicopter up and down fluidly. |
| Problem Solving | You consistently solve problems with solid thinking. | You bring problems management didn't know they had, along with solutions (beating snakes out of the grass). |
| Vision I | You set clear, inspiring visions. | You set the vision with the end state clearly in mind – and set a course to connect the dots in between. You over communicate your vision. |
| Vision II | You thoroughly understand the vision for your products/category/division and make smart supporting decisions. | You routinely think beyond your title. |
| Follow Through | You follow through on the important things with excellence, and pick and choose the rest. | You follow through relentlessly – even if it's to say you aren't following through. You inspire an unwavering sense of confidence that you've "got it covered." |
| Organizational Contributions | You've made significant contributions working in the system and improving "the smell of the place." | You've also led unexpected contributions working on the system that have changed the DNA of the place. |
| Growing Capability | You invest in your people – they'd all say they've learned from you. | You've become a "destination category." |
